

Eurostat is the EU Commission's statistical unit. It collects, harmonize and publish statistical data from the EU member countries as well as data from selected non-member economies.

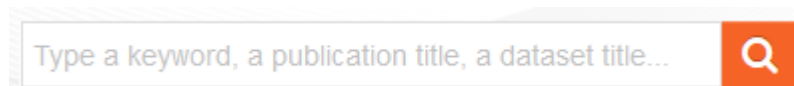

You can also find statistical publications within all topics covered – a mash of readymade tables and analysis.

The guide 'Statistics Explained' leads you through thematic headers to relevant data and publications

On the main page of Eurostat you have to know your way yourself:

The search field accepts only words from titles – you'll need to know exactly the title words of publications, datasets or tables.

Data

- 'Database': All data at once. A bit daunting.
- 'Browse statistics by theme': All data structured in themes. Provides better overview than the database.

Publications

This menu is totally useless.

Use 'Statistics explained' or 'Browse statistics by theme'
